Furnishings

Our Housing Assistant provided the group with a background to our furnishings packages and why we felt it was in need of revision.

The group were not entirely sure of what items were included in the furnishings package and were surprised to find out that a bed was not included. Every member of the group felt that a bed should be included.

They also liked having the choice of what floor covering to put down.

Rent Consultation

The group were happy with the layout remaining the same as last year and wanted to keep in examples of how rents change and the pie chart of where money is spent.

Newsletter

As this was the first publication by Alan, the group were asked to read the newsletter at home and bring forward any recommendations to the next meeting.

At first glance they particularly liked photos of people and their homes.

Legionella

The group discussed the Legionella Factsheet and felt the information inside was enough and liked the illustrations that went with the text.

Upcoming Agendas

The group were keen to continue with tenant safety and asked about a possible talk by Police Scotland regarding Community Safety.

Alan also sought the groups views on the possibility of visiting a void (empty) property before a new tenant moves in. They were keen to get involved.
